2. PURPOSE OF THIS POLICY

This Cookie Policy explains:

- What cookies are;
- How and why we use cookies;
- The types of cookies used on our website;
- How you can control or disable cookies.

This Policy should be read together with our Privacy Policy and Client Agreement.

We reserve the right to amend this Policy at any time. Any updated version will be published on our website and will become effective immediately upon publication.

3. WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Cookies are small text files placed on your device (computer, tablet, or mobile) when you visit a website. Cookies enable websites to function properly, enhance user experience, and collect analytical or statistical information.

Cookies do not typically identify you personally. However, certain cookies may be linked to personal data where you have provided such information to us.

Cookies may be:

- Session cookies (deleted when you close your browser); or
- Persistent cookies (stored on your device for a defined period).

4. HOW WE USE COOKIES

We use cookies for the following purposes:

- To ensure the proper functioning and security of our website;
- To enable login and account-related functionality;
- To remember your preferences;
- To analyse website performance and usage;
- To support marketing and advertising activities where applicable;
- To improve the design, structure and functionality of our services.

We do not use cookies to collect sensitive personal information without your consent.

5. TYPES OF COOKIES WE USE

5.1 Strictly Necessary Cookies

These cookies are essential for the operation of our website. They enable:

- Secure login;
- Account authentication;
- Fraud prevention and system security;
- Completion of online forms.

These cookies cannot be disabled via our systems. If you block them via your browser, parts of the website may not function properly.

5.2 Performance and Analytics Cookies

These cookies collect aggregated and anonymised information about how visitors use our website, including:

- Pages visited;
- Traffic sources;
- Navigation paths;
- Time spent on pages.

They help us measure and improve website performance. These cookies do not directly identify individual users.

Examples may include Google Analytics and similar analytical tools.

5.3 Functional Cookies

These cookies enable enhanced functionality and personalisation, including:

- Remembering language preferences;
- Storing region selections;
- Customising website layout.

If disabled, certain services or features may not function correctly.

5.4 Targeting and Advertising Cookies

These cookies may be set by us or by carefully selected third-party advertising partners. They:

- Track browsing behaviour across websites;
- Help deliver relevant advertising;
- Limit repeated advertisements;
- Measure campaign effectiveness.

These cookies do not directly store personal identification details but are based on unique browser or device identifiers.

6. THIRD-PARTY COOKIES

Certain cookies may be placed by third-party service providers, including:

- Analytics providers;
- Marketing and advertising partners;
- Embedded content providers.

We do not control third-party cookies directly. You should refer to the respective third party's privacy and cookie policies for further information.

7. MANAGING COOKIES

You can control or disable cookies through your browser settings. Most browsers allow you to:

- Block all cookies;
- Delete existing cookies;
- Set preferences for certain websites.

Please note:

If you disable strictly necessary cookies, certain functionalities of the website may not operate correctly.

By continuing to use our website without adjusting your browser settings, you consent to our use of cookies as described in this Policy.

8. DATA PROTECTION

Any personal data collected through cookies will be processed in accordance with our Privacy Policy and applicable data protection laws.

Where required, we will seek your consent before placing non-essential cookies on your device.
